Dear Dr. Roberti,

Manuscript entitled "Zero and extremely low metallicity rotating massive stars: evolution, explosion, and nucleosynthesis up to the heaviest nuclei"
Received: 06-Oct-2023

This will acknowledge receipt of the above manuscript.

Authors who wish to identify themselves with Chinese, Japanese, or Korean characters, in addition to using Roman letters, may do so. This can be useful for uniquely identifying authors and ensuring proper credit for their work. The instructions can be found at <https://journals.aas.org/nonroman/>

Publication Charges:

May I draw your attention to the fact that there are publications charges for manuscripts published in AAS Journals. Unless a full or partial AAS Publication Support Fund request has been granted, you (or your institution) are expected to pay author fees in full promptly upon receiving an invoice from IOP Publishing (IOPP) when your manuscript is published.

Please reference the manuscript #: AAS50046 in all correspondence regarding same.

You may check on the status of your manuscript by logging into <http://aas.msubmit.net>

Thank you for submitting your work to the AAS Journals.

Kind Regards,
Alex Andrews
AAS Editorial Operations Manager

Publication Charges

This charge is based on an assessment of your submitted manuscript. Revisions that occur in the course of the review process will not result in a higher charge. However, in a small number of cases the formatting and presentation of figures and tables may have caused this estimate to be higher than it needs to be. In that case our editorial staff may be able to suggest changes that will lower your costs.
